

Sue Walker

After undertaking by initial degree at South Glamorgan Institute of Higher Education as it was then, I started my teaching career in London working for the ILEA. After moving back to Wales, I worked in schools in the Bridgend area before taking up a headship post in Swansea also completing my MA (Ed) and was on one of the initial cohorts for the NPQH. A move into the advisory service took me back to the old Mid-Glamorgan area and I have stayed in this area since 2007, moving into Rhondda Cynon Taff as a school improvement officer in 2011 and in 2017 taking up my current role as Chief Education Officer for Merthyr Tydfil County Borough Council.
